"SITUATION EXTREMELY GRAVE."

BOLSHEVIK DETERMINATION TO CAPTURE WARSAW,

PROPOSED TRUCE REFUSED.

LONDON, August 8.

The situation is extremely grave and the Hythe Conference has no doubt that the Bolsheviks mean to capture Warsaw and then establish Soviet government. The news is confirmed that Mr. Lloyd George presented a memorandum to M. Kameneff on Friday regarding the terms of the proposed truce with the object of enabling the terms of peace between Russia and Poland to be discussed. It was proposed that truce should be declared for ten days from mid-night August 9 and 10 and that orders should be issued from Moscow and Warsaw that the Polish and Russian armies should halt on the line on which they stand and cease fighting.

ALLIES' GUARANTEE.

The memorandum guarantees that during the period between the cessation of hostilities and the signature of peace the Allies will take no steps to send troops to Poland or supply the Polish arms with war material It was also agreed that the Soviet should be allowed to send representatives behind the Polish-lines in order to satisfy themselves that no reinforcements or war material were being supplied to Poland. The memorandum further stipulated that on the cessation of hostilities the Russian and Polish armis. tice delegates should meet to define the line of demarcation between the Soviet and Polish armies until the conclusion of peace and to draw up conditions of the armistice as a preliminary to peace negotiations.

ALLIES "CONSIDERING NECESSARY, ACTION.

. Several messages have now been received from Moscow which has definitely declined to agree to the proposed terms. The Bolsheviks declare that they are meeting the Poles on Wednesday. They prefer to make their own arrangements with the Poles. The Conference has therefore referred the matter to its naval and military advisers who will present their report to-morrow when the Conference will consider what action shall be taken in the circumstances.

Mr. Lloyd George is deferring the making of a statement in the House of Commons till Tuesday. The French delegation is expected to leave Hythe to-morrow afternoon.

ALLIES NOT WANTED.

LONDON, August 9. A Russian wireless message to Britain says that the Polish Government announced its readiness to send delegates to Minsk to conclude an armistice and peace preliminaries. The Bolshevik Government therefore expresses the belief that the object of the Allies, namely the cessation of hostilities and the establishment of peaceful relations between Russia and Poland on the basis of the full independence of Poland will be attained most speedily and through direct negotiations. The Bolshevik Government is of the opinion that the Allies undoubtedy scknowledge their object to be fully covered by the impending Russo-Polish conference at Minsk. The contents of the above note are regarded as practically amounting to a rejection of Allied participation in the Russo-Polish settlement.

> GERMANY SEEKING TROUBLE. LONDON, August 8.

Indications are growing that Germany is seeking to intensify Poland's difficulties. Following on Herr Simons' speech a notable manifesto signed by all classes of German socialists has been issued. Referring to the growing rumours of Allied troops concentrating on the Rhine it calls on German workers to use every means to prevent the passage of troops and war material across Germany to Poland.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF?

At the same time Echo de Paris publishes the text of the German note to Poland drawing attention to the collisions between the Poles and Germans in ex-German territory and requesting that steps be taken to prevent the aggravation of friction. The Echo de Paris regards the note as reflecting a desire to pick a quarrel, on the same lines as Austria did with Serbia in 1914. A message from Warsaw says that speculation is rife regarding the real object of the note and the alleged incidents in view of the fact that order has been remarkably well maintained in the area complained of. It is suggested that the Germans are seeking a pretext to occupy Polish Pomerania.

BOLSHEVIK PRETEXTS.

WARSAW, August 7. It is officially alleged that the Moscow wireless station has twice declined to receive the latest Polish note on the pretext first of an alteration in the hours for the reception of messages and secondly on the ground of atmospheric disturbances which the Poles state do not exist.

FIERCE FIGHTING.

LONDON August 7. A Polish communique suggests that the Polish counter-move continues. In the neighbourhood of Drobiczyn the Poles gained ground. In the neighbourhood of Drobiczyn the Poles succeeded in driving enemy detachments which crossed the Bug back to the north bank after particularly fierce fighting. On the river Sereth the Bolshevik attacks were repulsed while Ukrainian detachments are successfully continuing to counterattack. The communique declares that the town of Brody has been completely sacked by the Bolsheviks.

CABINET MEETING SUMMONED.

HYTHE, August 8. At 4.30 p.m. two messages were received from Moscow at Lympne where the conference is being held. Neither is definite in character but both indicate that the Soviet will refuse the proposed terms.

LYMPNE, August 9. An official statement issued at 12.30 o'clock this afternoon states that the conference is still sitting but arrangements hold for the departure of M. Millerand and Marshal Foch at 2.30 p.m.

Mr. Lloyd George has summoned a Cabinet meeting for 6 six o'clock to-night at Downing Street when he will lay the whole situation before his colleagues.

POLISH SOCIALISTS IMPASSIONED APPEAL.

LONDON, August 7.

The Polish Socialists have issued an impassioned counterblast to the anti-Polish manifestoes of the British and other Labourites imploring them to oppose the national murder which is being perpetrated on Poland by the Red Army, whose object is to ruin the independence of neighbours as already done in Lithuania and the Ultraine. Who dares Details are carefully guarded. to reproach the Polish Socialists for wishing to save the independence of their country? concludes the appeal.

GOVERNOR COX SUPPORTS LEAGUE.

DATTON (OHIO), August 8th. Stirring scenes were witnessed on the occasion of Governor Cox's speech accept. ing the Democratic nomination for the Presidency. The speech was easily audible to the whole audience, owing to the employment of an electric sound amplifier. Governor Cox declared himself an unequivocal supporter of the League of Nations, and accused "the Senatorial Cabal " of plotting in the midst of war to undo President Wilson's work, in order to prevent the Democrats from winning the coming election. He criticised the Republican declaration as regards the League as interpreted by Senator Harding, by asserting that it simply meant separate peace with Germany.

Governor Cox said that it will be the most disheartening event' in civilisation since Russia's separate peace with Germany, and will be, in all circumstances, an infinitely unworthier action. He declared that Senator Harding, in plain words, proposed to remain out of the League.

After dwelling on the possible consequences of such an action, Governor Cox referred to domestic problems, and favoured the reduction of taxation, and suggest ed that one way of raising funds would be the tax of 1 to 12 per cent. on the business sales. This world affect the profiteers. He also favoured carrying the St Lawrence waterway to the Atlantic as an outlet for the States lying about the Great

MYSTIFIED SUBMARINES. · NOTHING TO ATTACK.

Submarines which moved towards the British coast in mid-August brought back strange reports; they sighted nothing that they could attack.

"There were no obstacles at the entrances to the Humber and the Wash, at least, so far as could be concluded from the movements of merchartmen going in and out. .. From Cromer to Whitby the lighthouses were actually still alight. The lightships had ap arenly been withdrawn. [This was incorrect.] Action by aircraft was nowhere observed."

This invisible British Fleet remained invisible, though it was reported from time to time in the north of the North Sea, and "great masses of destroyers" were thought to be patrolling the British east coast. In its perplexity the German Staff decided to try whether an offensive operation against that coast would provoke the British, for the attrition campaign, so far, had been a complete failure. A general order was issued to the Fleet, couched in high-falutin terms as the prelude to the new operation, closing with the words, "at them with God

Who will give us victory." This offensive took the form of a hasty raid by two small cruisers to attack the British destroyers in the south of the North Sea. The small cruisers were supported by, two submarines. Three German battle-cruisers were to be ready with all boilers under steam to put to sea, and a third light cruiser, the "Kolberg," was to wait off Terschelling. The light cruisers steamed-the " Strassburg" to 30 miles, and the "Stralsund" to 35 miles S.E. of Yammouth -and sighted and exchanged a distant fire with two British light cruisers and several British destroyers. They returned on August 19 without accomplishing anything further. But we are told:

"The wireless results were peculiarly satisfactory. They showed the superiority of the German system both in its resonance and in the fact that neither the numerous (British) destroyers nor the two cruisers that accompanied them had been able with the changes of wave-length at their command, to jam the messages sent by the 'Straisund' to the 'Strassburg' and 'Kolberg.' . . . ## NOTICES.

One of the most remarkable films ever recorded in the history of motion G. FALCONER & CO., LTD. pictures will shortly be released through the Middle East Films Ltd. The films show the exploits of the German sea raider "Moewe." These pictures constitute one of the most sensational pieces of film from a pictorial stand-point as well as news ever shown upon the screen. No such sea pictures have ever been seen. No artist has ever painted anything more spectacular. Ship after ship is sunk before the eyes of the audience, while boats are overturned in heavy seas and men clamber down ropes on the sides of ships plunging about in the waves ever then sinking rapidly. The pictures begin with the departure of the raider "Moewe" from Wilhelmshaven to run the British blockade. Then scenes that unroll before the eyes. In For a moment there is a straining explosion as the torpedo reaches its over on its side and in an unbelievably leaving only a ripple on the surface German frightfulness will be screened locally in the near future. ## MISTRESS AND AMAH

A PEAR QUARREL

At the Magistracy this morning, an amah employed by Major Carter, be obtained in London now. a resident of the Peak Hotel, sued Miss Stormon, assistant manageress of that hotel for assault."

Miss Stormon cross summoned the complainant also for breach of the peace and assault.

Mr. D. J. Lewis appeared for Miss Stormon and Mr. K. Lo for the amah.

The amah said that on the morning of the 2nd while washing clothes in yard she made the remark that the weather was foggy. Miss Stormon, who was passing at the time, told her shut up. Witness replied that she was only making a casual remark about the weather. Miss Stormon, who evidently did not understand Chinese, thereupon assaulted her, bruising her arm and tearing her clothing.

By Mr. Lo; Witness had very good references from her previous Alabaster.

Mr. Lo pointed out that as far as the general character of the amah was concerned there was nothing against her.

facts of the case were as lows:-Miss Stormon was in the linen room on Monday morning influenza. when an amah came in and told her that there was a quarrel among some amahs in the private servants' quarters. She went out to see what was the matter. These quarrels, said counsel, were a common occurrence at the beginning of every month when outside servants came to the private servants quarters of the hotel. In order to get to the servants' quarters, Miss Stormon had to pass a narrow passage. In this passage were four washing tubs, arranged in such a way as to block the whole passage. Miss Stormon called to one of the amans to remove the tubs drain. The complainant thereupon off. rushed at Miss Stormon and tried to claw her. Miss Stormon pushed her away. The amah then said that she intended to complain to Mrs. Blair and Miss Stormon invited her to do so. Counsel said that the complainant must have become angry because her morning's work was in the passage: spoiled, and that was why she went

The amah, cross-examined by Mr. Lewis said that there have heard about it. was no quarrel among the amahs when Miss Stormon came down, she had just started washing the clothes. There was one tub out of the way. Her washing was not upset into the drain. She did not see Miss Stormon push any of the tubs with her foot. Miss Stormon had no reason for assaulting witness.

An amah gave evidence bearing out the complainant's statement. She said that she was "standing outside the latrine Miss Stormom came down. heard the amah remark about the weather being foggy. Miss Stormon shouted to the amah in English "No noise," and the amah replied Chinese that she was not making a noise. the amah. By Mr. Smith: She did not see Miss Stormon kick any of the tubs

By Mr. Lewis: She was not a wash amah. She happened to be downstairs at the time of the quarrel and saw it. There were no outside servants in the servants' quarters excepting a friend of the amah who had been staying there for a long time. Witness denied that this woman had come to collect debts.

Mr. Lewis: I put it to you-that there was a quarrel and that was why Miss Stormon came out into the Yard?-No.

Then why did Miss Stormon come out from her room at that time?-She used to come downstairs pretty to give evidence in her favour. often and at all times, for no special reason. There were always some wash tubs outside the servants quarters. Witness did not hear Miss Stormon tell any of the amah to move the tubs.

Did you see the complainant try to strike and claw Miss Stormou?-

regarding the nature of the Russian reply which is expected in the course of Sunday, but a sense of uncertainty remains its receipt. The Observer's diplomatic correspondent exactly defines the position when he says that "by evening we shall know whether it will be peace or war."

The Poles continue to issue voluminous communiques from which it is gathered that the Poles are busily engaged in repulsing Bolshevist attacks on various sectors, frequently making counter-attacks. The Sunday Express understands that the Government has proposed to Moscow a 10-day truce with Poland.

A STARTLING SPEECH.

LONDON, August 7. Germany, is watching the Polish crisis as eagerly as the Entente. The blows. keynote of her policy was struck by a brief but startling speech by the Foreign Minister, Herr Simons in the Reichstag, declaring that he would use his utmost powers to prevent any infringement of German neutrality by the transport of Entente troops to Poland and hinting almost in a threatening tone at Franco-German tension. The newspapers express entire approval of this policy.

GERMAN SATISFACTION.

The excitement produced in Germany by the speech was somewhat lessened by the belief that the Allies, realizing that any endeavour to transport arms or munitions will evoke wholesale sabotage and obstruction, to say nothing of armed resistance, will abstain from such an attempt. Still the German papers do not conceal their satisfaction at the prospect of a break-down of the Polish buffer between Germany and Russia and the collapse of one of the main pillars of the Versailles Treaty.

GERMANY AND RUSSIA.

BERLIN, Aug. 8. The Foreign Minister, Herr von Simons, in a newspaper interview, said that Germany was prepared to resume diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia immediately satisfaction was given for the murder of Count Mirbach, German ambassador to Russia in 1918. He added that Germany had given permission to the Soviet economic representatives to enter Germany. Herr Chicherin poured cold water on the intentions of German immigrants to enter Russia.

OTTAWA, August 8.

At the Press Conference, Mr. Gilbert Parker declared that the Imperial partnership had been long founded upon consent. If Canada desired to withdraw from it no gun would be fired to prevent her, but granting responsible government to the Dominions had strengthened their determination to remain members of the British commonwealth.

Sir G. Toulmin expressed confidence in the unwritten constitution of the whole Empire being gradually evolved. PAPER SUPPLIES

An interesting discussion ensued on the question of paper supplies end. ing in the adoption of a resolution calling the appointment of a standing committee to take steps to ensure adequate supplies of paper throughout the Empire. LOOMING TERROR OF CAP AND GOWN.

The girls of Newnham and Girton are possibly enjoying their last frilly and bejumpered May-week, writes a Cambridge correspondent.

Plans for the founding of a separate University for Cambridge women students, run on parallel lines to the men's, may materialise, and they will have to wear their stiff academic caps and gowns instead of silken jumpers and crisp muslias at all University affairs, just like their men colleagues. Even if the girls should be admitted at last as members of the University proper they would still have to forfeit all their

MEETING IN HONGKONG.

ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED

The question of interport tennis was discussed at a meeting of representatives of the Hongkong tennis and cricket clubs held in the Hongkong Cricket Club Pavilion yesterday even-

Mr. R. Hancock, who presided, said that the meeting had been convened to discuss the following letter received by the Hon. Secretary, of the Hongkong C.C, from the Hon. Secretary of the Shanghai Lawn Tennis Association:-

Dear Sir,-I have been instructed by the Committee of the Shanghai

Lawn Tennis Association to invite your views as to the possibility and desirability of arranging regular Interport Lawn Tennis Matches between your port and Shanghai. Such matches might take place either between teams of six players a side, or one match each year, first at one port and then at the other. The above suggestions are put forward only in a very general way, as my Committee would like to have your opinion as to whether you consider the idea a good and a practicable one before proceeding to the discussion of details. My Committee feels sure that such matches would evoke very great interest in Shanghai and would tend to simprove the standard of lawn tennis in the Far East, and that, seeing that lit is now possible to arrange for cricket, polo and lawn bowls teams to visit different ports, it should be even easier to do so for lawn tennis in view of the great popularity of the game and the large numbers of players. I am addressing this letter to you as I am not aware if there is a Lawn Tennis Association at your port as there is here, and I shall be grateful if you will deal with it as representing the lawn tennis players of Hongkong, or, failing that, hand it to anybody who is in a position to do so. The idea of my Committee is to hold matches between teams representing the lawn tennis-playing communities of each port rather than individual clubs. (Sd.) A. H. GEORGE.

Mr. Hancock said those present knew that there had been no regular inter-port tennis matches in the past, although tennis matches had been 'arranged in conjunction with the inter-port cricket matches. He said that the best thing would be to agree to the general principle of having the tennis matches as suggested by Shanghai and then appoint a subcommittee to discuss the details. letter could be sent at once to Hongkong would be glad of a visit between teams which only represent from Shanghai tennis players. Mr. W. H. Drummond agreed with the Chairman's suggestion, and said Shanghai might send the tennis team at the same time as the cricket team in November. Mr. Hancock thought this was a good idea. "He "thought the best thing would be to arrange that the matches be played this year in Hongkong, next year in Shanghai and so

The formation of a Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association was suggested as the first step. Mr. A. Hicks said that if such an Association be formed, it could not only take the inter-port contests in hand, but could also arrange the championship tournament, in which the Hongkong C.C. had done so much good work in the past. Mr. Hancock said that a L. T. A. must come; the sooner the better. This meeting, however, could not form an Association. Perhaps in would be best to have Mr. Greenhill write to the Secretary of the Shanghai Association for a copy of their rules. Then the local subcommittee could discuss these and call angeneral meeting of persons intere ed in lawn tennis for the purpose of forming an association.

This suggestion was agreed to by the meeting. It was decided to inform the Shanghai Association that Hongkong would be glad of a visit in November. Mr. Drummond mentioned the matter of expense. Mr. Hancock said he did not anticipate any difficulty on that score. Subscriptions were usually invited, and the entrance fees would enable the Association to be put on a sound

A sub-committee consisting of one representative each from the Hongkong C.C., the Kowloor C.C., the U.S.R.C., the Chinese R.C. and the Civil Service was appointed to make the necessary arrangements until the formation of a Hongkong Lawn Tennis Association. The Association will choose the teams and run the interport tennis. It was suggested as desirable that Mr. Hancock, represent the Hongkong C.C. on the Committee. Mr. Hancock said it was a pity that they could not set teams from Japan and Manila. They could then have had a week of tennis. This sentiment was schoed, butno one suggested that an effort bemade to get teams from layan and Menils, and the meries ter

THE GERMAN FRONTIER

Paris. August 7.

The newspapers state that Germany has addressed a third note of the Entente concerning the necessity of defending East Prussia. declares that with the object of maintaining order a militia force has spontaneously formed itself in the vicinity of the frontier. The Government has taken over the force and is centralising its organisation. The note reiterates the request for sanction to despatch troops to the frontier in view of the departure of certain Allied contingents.

WHY WOMEN WATCH WEDDINGS.

It has frequently been asserted that life is what one makes it, but to a vast number of people life is a grey routine, made up of monotonous days filled with monotonous tasks, which have to be carried out that the worker may keep alive. And keeping alive is not life.

But every normal being is born with the capacity for romance. child satisfies this natural craving by folk pander to what they know the child wants by means of fairy tales. As childhood passes we cannot leave fairyland behind entirely, and we still blindly grope for a land of makebelieve in a mundane world where competition to live seeks to swamp the dreamer.

It is because of this blind groping and longing for romance that crowds of women flock to witness weddings. Many of them cry at these functions, as they would weep at a funeral, but they enjoy their tears. Such tears give an acute joy because they stir up the monotony.

BERNHARDIS ADVICE NOW.

General Bernhardi's new book The War of the Future," just pubished, in Berlin, is important as revealing the feeling in German military circles. He thinks that with submarines Germany will be able to reduce England, France, and Italy. Time will give her the means for doing this: "Notwithstanding the peace conditions the U-boat arm must be developed as opportunity offers. That this and the expansion of the army are possible can be seen from what happened after 1906, when, under the very eyes of the French garrisons, we trained 200,000 men instead of the 42,000 we were allow-

The whole German nation is to be organised for war on the most stupendous scale. He admits that tanks are a formidable weapon, though he professes that the German measures of defence against them were effective. But his ideas regarding them are those of the bow-and-arrow school; he does not realise that war on land has changed radically with tanks that can move 30 miles an hour over country.

CAR TURNS TURTLE

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT ABERDEEN

EIGHT PERSONS INJURED.

Most women thrive on new sensa- direction, were noticed just in front to reports reaching Canton daily. endeavouring to prevent an accident swerved the car to the right, with the result that it shot into an embankment and turned turtle. All the occupants were thrown heavily on to the road.

Fortunately no one was pinned under the heavy vehicle. At the same time three of the Chinese pedestrians were also found to have received injuries. Some cars which were passing the scene at the time noticed the accident and picked up the, eight, injured persons and took them to hospital; some to the Government Civil Hospital and the others to the French Hospital. The first car to arrive was the car of Mr. P. P. J. Wodehouse, C.I.E., the Captain-Superintendent of Police. who took steps to have those injured in the accident removed'to hospital.

The Mexican Consul received an injury over his eye and dislocated his shoulder. His wife was stunned, and was in an unconscious condition. She had several severe abrasions al over her body. The Mexican Consul's daughter appears to have been seriously injured as she was bleeding profusely when picked up. mother and daughter were, taken the French Hospital. The Chilean Consul was the most fortunate of the party, for he escap ed with only a few bruises and was able, after medical examination, to proceed home. The chauffeur severely injured on the head his leg was broken. A Chinese coolie fractured his collar bone and had minor injuries. The two Chinese had severe cuts all over the

LADY VISITOR ROBBED

DAYLIGHT HOLD-UP.

AN UNPLEASANT EXPERIENCE.

While taking snapshots in West Point yesterday afternoon, Harvey, a visitor residing at th Kingsclere Hotel, was the victim of highway robbery.

It appears that Miss Harvey was returning along Jubilee Road to the tram terminus at Kennedy Town to take car back to the city, when near the then deserted bathing beach, she was accosted by two Chinese of whom pushed her from behind while the snatched her silver handbag, which contained some few dollars in small change. The highwaymen then decamped and disappeared in the direction of Pokiulum. Miss Harvey made her way to the nearest police station, where she reported the occurrence. Detectives were at once sent out to trace the robbers, and the police are confident that the search for the culprits will be successful.

CULPRITS ARRESTED. The official Police report is to the effect that Miss Harvey was attacked at 12.30 p.m., by two men who approached from behind. One of them dealt her a heavy/blow on the back He makes it quite clear that the while the other snatched a Japanese hanging from her left arm. The bag contained one $5 mete, three $1 notes, some small change, a silver pencil holder, a gold fountain pen and a vanity, box.

short time ago the Shanghai Mercury, complimented the gentry in the neighbourhood on having made strong representations to the Chinese authorities urging that no lads or old men be permitted to wander round in charge of ricshas. On the one hand the resources of the young have not been developed and the tax tends to stunted growth. The man of years is not fit to run and pull a fare, and it is painful in the extreme for many of us to note the pathetic figure of one who has to struggle in this way for a bowl of rice. We notice, says our Shanghai temporary, that the spirit humanitarianism is spreading China, for a gentleman in Peking is making an appeal to his own people: Many years ago when was in Singapore, the now retired Governor Sir Young, having pity on the Chinese ricsha runners pulling two persons, prohibited the plying and hire of that type of vehicles. Before I left Siam a few months ago, the Siamese Government ordered that only able-bodied persons be allowed to pull ricshas. When I came to this city, the Capital of China, I was and am Shocked to see thin and unclean boys of not more than 13 or 14 years plying ricshas on the streets, with still younger boys about 7 years old following behind and pretending to push the ricshas. It really makes one's blood boil to see a stalwart soldier weighing over 200 pounds sitting carelessly, smoking and fanning himself whilst a poor boy panting hard for breath, pulls

SECRET DEVICE WARSHIPS.

SIR PARCY SCOTT'S CLAIM AGAINST YICKERS.

A claim by Admiral Sir Percy Scott against Messrs. Vickers, Ltd., came before Mr. Justice Coleridge in the King's Bench Division.

Sir E. Carson said plaintiff had devoted a great deal of his time to making inventions in relation to gunnery, and particularly as to sighting arrangements, which had been adopted throughout the ships of his Majesty's Navy and in many ships belonging to other countries.

One of the inventions in question, made in 1903, was called the Hero sight, because it was first used in a ship called the "Hero." There was an agreement entered into regarding this by which plaintiff was to be paid 20" per cent, of the selling price of any of these inventions, manufactured by Vickers.

INDEFINITE ARRANGEMENTS. Various other inventions and improvements were handed over to the that came chiefly into this case—a director of firing gear that was an extension of the original Horo sighting. This enabled one, through the mechanical contrivances of the invention, practically to fight all the guns in a ship at one time by reason of the Chin-tao, instead of with Dr. Wuway in which the sighting could be arranged.

Plaintiff contended that all these inventions came under the original contract. Matters seemed to have been arranged in a very informal way. There was, in fact, no contract produced except the original one bearing date 1903, and the matter had been going on in a very indefinite way for an account from defendants of all the sales of these different apparatus; instruments, and devices. As a rule the various inventions were allowed to be taken out in the name of Vickers owing to brisk demand from Chinese or of Sir Trevor Dawson, who was then managing director. . The defendants, he understood, denied that the blow-out for guns that! they supplied to the Navy was plaintiff's invention. The defendants said that on February 9, 1905, by a letter from Sir Trevor Dawson, and one in reply from Sir Percy Scott, it was agreed that plaintiff would accept £12,000 in settlement of all royalties on sighting arrangements due to him down to January 2, 1905. CONSUL THREATENED. BANGKOK CASE.

ANT COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

In the case in which Mr. C. Grant. mining engineer, is being prosecuted the police for threatening H.B.M. Consul-General at Bangkok and with doing wilful damage by breaking Typewriter at the British Consulate proceedings were continued in the Borispah Court.

The first witness called was Mr B. C. Neoh, chief clerk at the Britist Legation, who stated that at 9 o'clock one morning the accused came into the office. The first thing he did was to speak to Mr. Hendricks, witness' assistant, and he at once took up a typewriter from its table, threw it on the floor and told witness to go and inform Mr. Lyle what he had done. The typewriter was a Smith Premier, ship at first. It seemed sacrilegious good condition.

On their arrival in Rome, they were re-erected to the right of the portico of the old Lateran Palace; but, in 1589, Pope Sixtus V. removed them to their present position in the chapel of the Sancta Sanctorum, a building in charge of the Passionists.

All is quiet. The prayers of the long line of pilgrims are silent ones. All are kneeling, and as they conclude one prayer they ascend-still on their knees—to the next step, making way for another of the waiting string to take the vacant place. The ascent necessarily takes many minutes. Probably more athan half an hour elapses before the worshipper reaches the landing, and during all that time he is on his knees—an ordeal scarcely appreciated by those who have not

An indulgence of nine years for each of the 28 steps may be obtained by those who ascend on their knees, according to an indulgence granted in 1100 by Pope Paschal II. This indulgence was confirmed by Pope Pius VIL in 1817 as applicable to souls in Purgatory, and to be obtained only the Passion with a contrite heart. The Sancta Sanctorum, which you can see through a grating from the landing, was the only part of the Lateran which escaped the great fire, and was the private oratory of the early Popes. In the foundations of this building have been discovered many precious relics, including the heads of St. Peter and St. Paul-now in St. John's Lateran-and the head of St. Agnes, which was found only 20 years ago.

In the chapel itself is the celebrated picture of the Saviour, which tradition says was outlined by St. Luke, and completed by the angels. Only the face is exposed to-day, one of the mediaeval Popes having covered the rest of the picture, which is painted on cedar, with silver plates. Through the grating of the chapel the faithful gaze reverently at the picture, but it is only a fleeting glimpse they get. The grating is

THE GOLDEN STAIRS.

IMPRESSIVE SCENES IN ANCIENT ROME.

These Holy Stairs came to Rome

We were able to gain an excellent view of the stairs and the pilgrims from the fact that the queue was well kept, and there was ample room to enter the doorway on either side. The entrance hall is small and unpretentious, a couple of fine sacred statues being the only adornments. The stairs themselves, 28 in number, are about 12ft. wide, of pure white marble, rising through an archway but those filled with deep devotion. Yet women and children formed the vast majority of those devoted people, and though I watched them for some time, not even those nearest" the top-most step showed the who accompanied me assured me though many felt the results for days

About half-way up the stairs part of the surface is covered with a glass case, and through this glass can be seen stains on the marble—stains said to have been caused by the bleeding feet of the Saviour when He was brought before Pilate. As they reach this case the worshippers pause small, and there are so many waiting their turn. Then they pass along the passage, and descend by other stairs. Some even make the descent on their knees again, praying fervently the whole time.

It is a tiny bit of Rome, this chapel, but it is of especial interest in revea! ing the devotion of the people. Every one is absolutely sincere and absolutely absorbed. We felt a trifle ashamed of intruding on their worto gaze as mere sightseers upon what

A high Hungarian official named Martin Jellinek, who was one of the Prime Minister's entourage, cheated a number of people, including skilful money speculators, of 450,000,000 crowns (nominally £18,000,000) and absconded with a forged British passport. At the beginning of April rumours circulated in Budapest that a certain amateur speculator was in s position to sell foreign money at about 80 crowns below the ordinary rate of exchange. Business men were incredulous at first, but an order for the equivalent of a million crowns was promptly carried out, and the news was carefully spread. Jellinek declared that he could procure any sum of money as he was well acquainted with the Entente officers stationed in Budapest. In the middle of May his agents circulated the news that Jellinek was starting on a trip abroad for foreign money, and would return on June 1st. Bankers, aristocrats, wealthy women, and officials placed nearly 500,000,000 crowns at his disposal.

SCENE AT A THEATRE

Certain influential women of Paris have for some time been economizing on their wearing apparel. This economy, applied to hosiery, gave the term of "cotton stocking" movement to the economy campaign in which somany fashionable women have engaged. The crusade brought about a demonstration at the Comedie Francaise where Cecile Sorel, the celebrated beauty and in a gown dienne, appeared appraised at 33,000 and with a string of pearls costing 100,000 rupees. The women present at the performance, who heretofore had followed the fashions set by the actress," arose as a sign of protest against the actress's extravagance and loudly shouted their disapproval. saying that Mile. Sorel was deliberately defying the Government orders restricting "the importation of luxuries. The actress in reply asserted that ervy and not the desire to save inspired the objections of the
